Social Justice Youth Camp

Aug 13 - Aug 17, 2018 Mon 2:00 PM - Fri 1:00 PM

We bring you together from all the different communities and cultures in the Maritimes for a camp that focuses on social justice and environmental issues, culture, and gender, race and injustice. Come join the experience. Come join the community.

This multicultural camp is an opportunity for youth (ages 15-19) to learn how to make a difference. Lots of games, dynamic activities and discussions will be mixed with awareness and action. Join youth from all over Atlantic Canada to practice strategies against racism, use arts against injustice, discuss gender relations and positive and healthy sexuality, explore different cultural contexts, build alliances, and have a whole lot of fun! The camp will be facilitated by a diverse team of young adults from the region who actively live their lives working for social change.

Sample description of possible workshops (note workshops vary from year to year depending on the facilitators and interests of participants):

What is Social Justice?: Using skits and video clips, discussions and dialogue – explore the language, the ideas and the issues – and learn how social justice explores making the world we live in – a better place.

Building Community: how do we make everyone feel comfortable, engaged and involved? Discuss and share what is important to you to make our community better.

Conflict Resolution & Anti-bullying: it starts with communication – so how do we communicate when we're mad, or people are mad at us. And discuss practical tips on challenging bullying in the classroom and in society.

Consent, Sex, Healthy Sexuality: a frank discussion where you are able to ask the questions you are most interested in knowing about around sex and sexuality – learn how to talk about consent- and knowing what it is you want and need before sex takes the lead.

Social Justice Youth Camp

Aug 13 - Aug 17, 2018 Mon 2:00 PM - Fri 1:00 PM

Stereotyping & Gender Roles: an activity that demonstrates the impacts of stereotyping and an opportunity to challenge and address gender roles and explore the gender continuum.

Racism in the Maritimes: it is here, it is present everywhere – so how do we talk about it, how do we address it and how can we make a difference?

And much, much more....activities, discussions, videos, games and having fun while you learn to change the world!

Any youth, 15-19 years old,
interested in this camp?

If so, submit a letter c/o Melanie to the health centre

stating why you would like to attend and how you plan on sharing your knowledge

The rest of the application remains the same, applicants are required to have a letter of reference and their official school transcripts submitted in support of their application. All the information regarding who qualifies and how to apply, including the online application form, can be found:

Greetings Community!!

My name is Marvin Nash and I am the new Director of Housing for SMFN. I would like to thank everyone involved in making that happen. I will strive to do the best job for the members of the community and ensure everything that is done, will be for the betterment of your lives, and the community as a whole.

My Grandparents were Louis and Evangeline Paul and lived on Paul Street. I remember visiting them when I was growing up and marveling at the baskets they would make. There were always an abundance of people at their home. Though I did not grow up on the reserve, I do have fond memories of it as a child.

I grew up in the Village of Gagetown. I have 4 sisters, (Dorothy (Annie), Georgina, Brenna and Myrna) and one brother (Johnny). My father is Gordon (Butchie) Nash. My mother is Sharon Paul (Nash), she currently lives in the community. I live with my wife and brother in Hanwell with our ancient rottweilller Albert and our senior cats Spike and Buffy.

My background is mostly engineering and construction. I was a field tech for two civil/geotechnical firms, and a drafting and field tech for a couple of environmental ones. I was a materials testing and inspecting tech for a soils laboratory, that's fancy talk for a rock washer....

I did hold two positions in the non-profit sector. I worked for NBAPC as their Communications Officer and Natural Resources Manager. Then I saw this position and applied for it, and here we are today. I have a degree in Education, and love coaching, especially football. During university I worked with children in our community on their school projects and homework at tutoring at the education department on SMFN. These past few weeks I have been meeting people, viewing houses and hearing concerns.

In closing I will say, my door is always open and I plan to work with you to resolve any issues you may have that are housing related.

Woliwon
