EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY
Assistant Negotiator

The Wolastoqey Nation in New Brunswick (WNNB) requires an assistant negotiator for Fisheries negotiations between Canada and the 6 Wolastoqey communities. The Assistant Negotiator will support the Wolastoqey Lead Negotiator and the negotiations team in identifying and raising in their negotiations with Canada clearly articulated fisheries concerns, interests, and proposed solutions, based on direction from Wolastoqey leadership and members about their vision for implementing Wolastoqey Aboriginal and Treaty fishing rights. The Assistant Negotiator will also project manage the Wolastoqey Fisheries Research Project which seeks to better understand the interests of Wolastoqey communities and members to inform the negotiations with Canada.

This is an intensive technical and administrative job involving a large amount of record keeping & tracking, correspondence, reporting and attendance at various meetings, including presenting at community meetings. The ideal candidate will have strong written and verbal communication skills and strong interpersonal skills to engage with community members, the Wolastoqey negotiations team, and the federal negotiations team. The ideal candidate will also be highly organized and self-motivated and passionate about Wolastoqey Aboriginal and Treaty rights. Familiarity with Aboriginal and treaty rights, fisheries, and experience in negotiations would be ideal. This is a one-year full-time position which may be renewed subject to ongoing funding availability.

Duties:

- Ensure timely record keeping and reporting of all activities. Keep detailed correspondence logs.
- Participate as part of the Wolastoqey negotiations team in the ongoing identification of Wolastoqey fisheries interests, objectives, and proposals, and in developing written materials to communicate those to Canada.
- Organize and attend the negotiation meetings.
- Review existing research on Wolastoqey Fisheries' interests.
- Plan and attend community meetings, large gatherings, and workshops to engage with community leadership, staff and members about the negotiations and to receive their feedback.
- Project manage the Wolastoqey Fisheries Research Project, including guiding the internal engagement
- Help prepare the Fisheries Research Project report (the main final deliverable for that project) with a co-researcher (who will also be hired by WNNB)
- Provide additional support to the Lead Negotiator as required
- Maintain confidentiality of sensitive discussions.

Requirements:

- 5 years of relevant experience.
- Valid Driver's license, access to a vehicle, willingness to travel.
- Excellent oral and written communication skills.
- Proficiency with MS Word and Excel.
- Ability to work on tight deadlines.
- An understanding of First Nation communities, culture, social concerns and language.
- Applicant cannot be an elected official.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Knowledge of fisheries and ideally Wolastoqey fisheries
- Knowledge of Aboriginal and Peace and Friendship Treaty rights

Did You Know?

It is recommended that children be seen by a dentist by age 1 or within 6 months of their first tooth erupting.

Prevention can save time, money and TEETH!

- As soon as the first tooth comes in, start brushing with a toothbrush designed for children
- Brush your child's teeth gently twice every day and start flossing when two teeth touch each other
- Parents should still assist with brushing and flossing until their children can colour in the lines, tie their own shoes
- Fluoride treatments can reverse decay (cavities) in its earliest stages by helping to rebuild the surface of the enamel
- Sealants (a protective coating placed on the chewing surface of teeth)

For more information or to book a dental appointment, and to enroll your child into COHI. Call Mandy Meuse at the Health Centre 452-2750.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY
Wolastoqey Fisheries Research Project Co-lead

The Wolastoqey Nation in New Brunswick (WNNB) requires a Research Co-lead for its upcoming Fisheries Research Project. The purpose of the Research Project is to understand the rights and interests of Wolastoqey communities and members as they relate to Fisheries, specifically in the areas Domestic Fishing Rights, Commercial Fishing Rights, and Wolastoqey Fisheries Governance. The final written deliverable will be a Fisheries Research Report that will inform Wolastoqey objectives and proposals in their Fisheries Negotiations with Canada. The Co-lead will work with the Wolastoqey Fisheries Negotiation Team, and particularly with the Assistant Negotiator, who will be the Research Co-Lead. A fuller description of the Fisheries Research Report and the workplan for the Project are available for review by potential applicants upon request.

This is an intensive technical job involving research through academic literature reviews, engagement with Wolastoqey members, and interviews with representatives from other Indigenous organizations with relevant fisheries governance experience. The job will involve preparing a detailed research report and working with a team. The ideal candidate will have knowledge/experience relating to Indigenous Governance, ideally in the area of Fisheries (commercial fishing and fisheries management), strong written and verbal communication skills, and strong interpersonal skills to engage with community members and the Wolastoqey negotiations team. The ideal candidate will also be highly organized and self-motivated and passionate about Wolastoqey Aboriginal and Peace and Friendship Treaty rights.

This is a one-year contract as the Project is expected to take 1 year to complete. There is potential additional research work as follow-up to the delivery of the Fisheries Research Report, but that will not be known before the spring of 2020.

Duties:

Duties are described more fully in the Wolastoqey budget and workplan for the Fisheries Research Project, but key duties include:

- Review existing research on Wolastoqey commercial and domestic fishing rights.
- Develop questions to guide the internal engagement about fisheries rights and fisheries governance.
- Identify models from other Canadian jurisdictions and potentially internationally for how to collectively pursue fisheries activities and manage fisheries.
- Engage with the 6 Wolastoqey communities' elected leadership, Fisheries Directors, and members to obtain their input and direction on the Fisheries Research.
- Develop agenda for the all-Communities Fisheries Forum.
- Remain in regular contact with the Wolastoqey Negotiations Team for feedback and guidance on the Fisheries Research
- Prepare the final deliverable for the Fisheries Research Project, a Fisheries Research Report that explains research methodology, findings and recommendations for all the research conducted.
- Prepare internal and interim reports as required.

The Assistant Negotiator will be the Co-Lead on the Research Project, contributing to the work described above and taking primary responsibility for project management and logistics.

Requirements:

- 5 years of relevant experience.
- Valid Driver's license, access to a vehicle, willingness to travel.

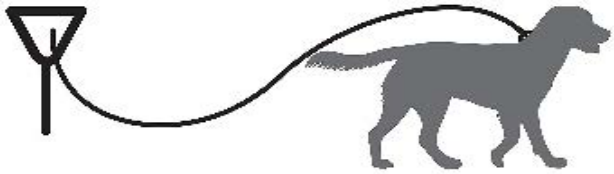
KWEY & GOOD DAY SITANSISK

With the warmer weather now in full affect, I wanted to take this time to remind you that no Dog's shall be tied out between the hours of 11pm – 6am, unless it is for 30 minuet increments to allow for them to use the bathroom. This is not only out of consideration for your Dog but is also out of consideration for your neighbours as well.

Tethering Dog's during the day:

People tie their Dog's outside for many reasons; Fresh air, Bathroom Breaks, etc. While the intentions behind this act might be good, unfortunately, keeping them on a chain and restricting their freedom to move around can be extremely detrimental to a dog's health, well-being, and ability to properly socialize with humans and animals.

Without the freedom to roam around, play and engage in their natural behaviors, dogs kept on chains or tethers can become bored, lonely, depressed and oftentimes aggressive. Chaining confines a dog to a small area of space on the property, and they are not free to explore and engage with other pets or with people. Many dog owners who keep their dogs chained up often don't realize the emotional and psychological harm it inflicts — and they often don't check on their dogs often enough to find out. Chained Dog's are sitting duck's for other animals, poisonous insects and extreme weather.



By ensuring your Dog has the best possible outdoor environment will lessen the chances of your dog becoming bored, and/or likely to become more aggressive. Providing the Dog with a secure enclosure and ensuring they have adequate food and water along with toys to better help stimulate their minds. If you do continue to tether your Dog, the tether must be at least 5x the length of your Dog and must be equipped with a swivel collar connector to ensure the best possible range in movements. Please be mindful of your neighbours; if your Dog is constantly barking, bring them inside. We all deserve equal peace, whether we are a Dog Owner or not.

By being a responsible Pet Owner, and a good neighbour, we can create a healthier and happier community for all of us to enjoy. Woliwon ☺

7 Reasons to Leash your Dog:

If you have a good, obedient pup, you may feel like a leash is optional when you're out walking the dog, but here are 7 solid reasons to leash your dog for their safety, for yours, and for people around you.

1. Not all people like dogs. And that's ok.

2. Not all dogs like other dogs. And that's ok too.

3. Wildlife & Plant hazards. Lead to vet bills.

4. Human made hazards. Pesticides, litter, contaminated water…more vet bills.

5. All dogs are unpredictable. Did someone say squirrel?!

6. Wheeled travelers and traffic. Results in accidents and injuries to all involved.

7. Be a good neighbor. Pick up that poop, respect private property and know your local leash laws.

Keep the peace and put on that leash. Thanks for being a responsible dog owner!

With the nicer weather and longer days ahead, the children will once again fill our streets. It is of vital importance that we keep our Dog's securely tied while outside, unless of course under the direct supervision of the Adult Owner. As I have stated before; yes our Dog's may seem to be very obedient and well behaved Dog's while under the supervision of an Owner, nevertheless, Dog's WILL bite, attack, and maul if they are provoked to do so. Therefore, I must also stress the importance of teaching your children appropriate ways to treat animals to avoid these situations at any and all costs. Our children's safety should be one of our biggest priorities.

WHEN: Sunday, May 12, 2019

WHERE: St. Mary`s Entertainment Center

TIME: 9:00 am until 11:00 am

Sponsored by The Early Childhood Mentoring Program AND the St. Mary`s Mental Health and Addictions Program

ATTENTION;

Important information to follow..

Kwey & good day Sitansisk,

In regards to the Annual Dog Vaccinations, changes have been once again made. The community has spoken; therefore, the program was revised for the final time. It is with great excitement that we announce that we will now be having the City Animal Hospital preform our yearly vaccinations. The initial intent upon considering the change was fostering a working relationship and utilizing our community members while doing so, which will now happen as a result of the change!

The Vaccination Date and Process will remain the same as per usual. The date for the inoculations is June 12th. You will be asked to bring your Dog to the end of the road and wait for the Vet's to come along as always. The Rabies Vaccination is covered by the Band – However, there is a new price list and the option to instead of getting all 3 extra vaccinations at once, to now do so separately if you should so choose to. The prices are as followed:

- Distemper/Parvo (DA2PP) = 10$ (Cash at site)
> Protects against infectious hepatitis and a common strain of canine influenza. Is recommended for everyone, in large part because parvovirus is very active in our area. It persists in the environment and is often fatal in young dogs. After the first couple years, it's also a 3-year vaccine. It does require an initial booster.

- Lepto (alone) = $15 (Cash at site)
> Leptospirosis is caused by specific bacteria that are transmitted through the urine of wild animals. We recommend it for anyone whose dogs go in the woods, drink out of stagnant water (e.g. ponds), or are otherwise in areas where wildlife is common. It can cause multi-organ failure and can be fatal. This vaccine is only labeled for annual use.
It does require an initial booster.

The total cost to get a combo of these is $20 (Cash at site).

- Lyme (alone) = $35 (Cash at site)
> The Vet noted that there are other more cost-efficient ways to treat for ticks such as Tick Prevention, in the event anyone is worried about over vaccinating their animals.

I want to sincerely thank the community for your tolerance during this time, I know change is not always easily accomplished, nor is it easily accepted; however, your patience is greatly appreciated during this time! As this is a first for everyone, I want to take this time and ask that you bear with us through this transition as we are expecting a few natural hiccups while we navigate through these changes!

Woliwon Sitansisk!!!

GIS DATABASE DEVELOPMENT AND HOUSING CONDITION ASSESSMENT

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

BACKGROUND

St. Mary's First Nation's (SMFN) Housing Department and Chief and Council have made investments in an effort to advance and innovate our methods of maintaining and understanding our existing housing needs, condition and renovations. This will be achieved through gathering and accounting for community infrastructure using a Geographic Information System (GIS), which displays inventory on an online map. The initial development of the GIS map, will focus on housing inventory, which includes lot numbers, civic addresses, mortgage maturity dates, and housing condition information.

AWARENESS CONTENT

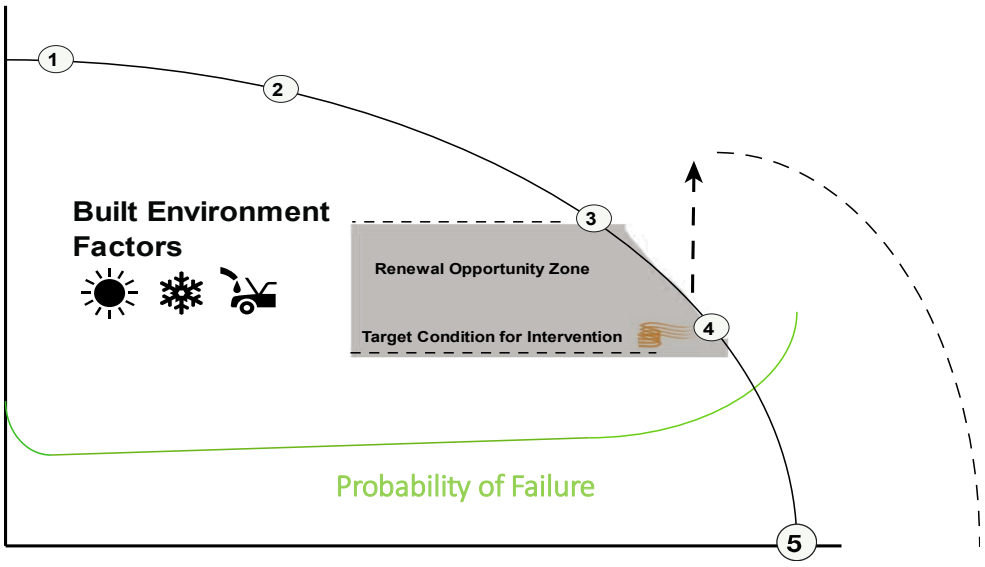
Over the duration of the project, you will receive educational information related to housing upkeep and maintenance, as well as housing funding Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs). The purpose of this information, which will be shared within the existing newsletter is to inform community members about the status of the project, as well as provide useful information as it relates to housing funding structures in Indigenous Communities in Atlantic Canada.

HOUSING CONDITION ASSESSMENT

In summer 2019, SMFN housing staff will be requesting access into individual homes to conduct a housing condition assessment. This assessment will consider the current condition of housing elements such as exterior finishes, site grading and drainage, interior finishes, as well as mechanical and electrical components. This assessment will help the housing department plan for future repairs and maintenance required for individual homes, which is expected to help shift our approach from unplanned repairs to a more strategic approach to maintenance.

Generally, as assets get older, they follow an exponential decay curve, as shown below. Different components within a house will deteriorate at different rates, therefore this project will look at modifying general decay curves to fit housing elements such as electrical fixtures and outlets, as well housing structure, foundation and roof. Asset decay curves typically follow a scale of 1 to 5, where:

- 1 = Excellent;
- 2 = Good;
- 3 = Adequate;
- 4 = Marginal;
- 5 = Poor;



The goal of the housing condition assessment will be to provide a baseline on the current condition of the housing stock in our community. Your participation in this assessment will be crucial to the success of this project.

ONLINE GIS MAP

A geographic information system is a computer-based tool that stores, analyzes and visualizes geographic data. Housing inventory and condition data will be collected in the field using a tablet, and will then be stored in a database to be displayed in an internet browser. The data collected will only be available to the Housing Directors and their team. The online GIS map will provide the community with a visual tool to display housing condition information (as shown in sample map, below), as well as community infrastructure and important elements such as sites of cultural and environmental significance.
